In addition, emphasis on internationalization, through the aforementioned English version of the texts and, in particular, the DOI (Digital Object Identifier), that is, the respective article started to be identified individually with the code digital, allowing the publication to be detected in a unique and persistent way in the Web environment.

On the occasion, the Editors pay their tribute and thanks to everyone who contributed to this praiseworthy initiative from the FUMEC University and, in particular, to all the authors who participated in this publication, with emphasis on the commitment and seriousness shown in the researches carried out and in the elaboration of the excellence texts.
